ASTRO Strategic 2025 Launch Guide

UNLOCK THE BEST WINDOWS FOR SALES & VISIBILITY

SUMMER EDITION - CURATED BY

Sheri Moise

Welcome

Guesswork isn't a strategy.

Even the best offers can fall flat if the timing is off. This guide shows you how to launch at the right time - so your audience is ready, your message lands, and your sales flow with ease.

Cosmic timing isn't about luck.

It's about knowing when your audience is most receptive, when visibility is strongest, and when to avoid unnecessary resistance.

By working with these natural cycles rather than against them, your launches feel easier, more aligned, and ultimately, more profitable.

This guide will help you:

- Understand the key astrological influences on sales & visibility and how to work with them
- Identify red-flag dates to avoid so you're not launching at a challenging time
- Use Sun cycles to align your messaging & audience readiness

This is your first step toward a launch strategy that flows with clarity, ease, and better results.

Let's dive in!

Your Cosmic Guide,

Sheri

UNDERSTANDING ASTROSTRATEGIC LAUNCH TIMING

Why Timing Can Make or Break Your Launch

You can have the best offer and marketing plan, but if the timing is off, you may experience:

- ❌ Low engagement & slow momentum
- ❌ Unexpected delays or resistance from your audience
- ❌ A launch that feels exhausting instead of energizing

The solution? Aligning your launch with the right timing—so your audience is primed and ready when your offer drops.

Common Launch Timing Mistakes

✔ Ignoring Collective Energy Shifts – Launching during retrogrades or low-energy transits without adjusting expectations can lead to delays, tech issues, or audience hesitation.

✔ Forcing a Timeline – Choosing dates based only on personal deadlines rather than audience readiness can create resistance and slower results.

✔ Missing the Pre-Launch Window – The energy of a launch starts before the cart opens—not giving enough warm-up time can lead to lower conversions.

Your Personal Chart & Energy Matter Too

While collective cycles impact sales and audience behavior, your personal astrology plays a key role in your energy, motivation, and ability to show up fully during a launch.

📌 Consider Your Chart:
Some transits might be activating major areas of your business or bringing opportunities for visibility and expansion. Others might signal a time to pace yourself or refine your strategy.

Your best timing often hides in the details of your personal chart — something you won't find in any generic calendar.

📌 Check Your Energy:
Not every launch window that looks good astrologically will feel good for you. Honoring your personal rhythm ensures you show up with clarity, confidence, and the stamina needed for a successful launch.

TRANSITS WITH POTENTIAL LAUNCH TIMING IMPACT

This is a high level overview of the biggest impact Astrological events in 2025. There are other specific days/times that can have launch impact as well - we work to personalize these based on your offer and timing.

Mercury Retrograde

These are dates to stay curious around if you are planning a launch. It doesn't mean you shouldn't launch but definitely check, double check and be prepared.

2025 Mercury Rx Dates (all times are PST):

- MERCURY RX IN SAGITTARIUS
  - November 9, 2025, 11:01am – November 18, 2025, 7:20pm
- MERCURY RX IN SCORPIO
  - November 18, 2025, 7:21pm – November 29, 2025, 9:38am

September Eclipse Window: Proceed with Caution

There's a Partial Solar Eclipse in Virgo on September 21, and the surrounding days carry a high potential for mental fatigue, decision overload, and emotional volatility. This is not the time to launch, push, or overextend.

Eclipses stir up unseen energy, and this one highlights stress, health, and burnout patterns — especially if you've been running on fumes. It's a powerful time for reflection, but not for visibility or big moves.

AstroStrategic Tip:

- ✓ Avoid launching, cart opens/closes, or major visibility pushes from Sept. 17–24.
- ✓ Use this window to regroup, replenish, and revisit your foundations.

Let the dust settle before you make your next move.

ASTROSTRATEGIC LAUNCH GUIDE

SUN CYCLE LAUNCH ENERGY GUIDE

While Sun cycles don't determine exact launch dates, they provide powerful insights into where your audience is focus and attention will be. Aligning your launch messaging with the energy of the moment makes your offer feel like an easy 'yes'.

♈ Sun in Aries (March 20 – April 19)
Bold moves, quick action → Fast-moving, impulse-buy offers.

♉ Sun in Taurus (April 19 – May 20)
Stability & trust → Best for high-ticket or long-term programs.

♊ Sun in Gemini (May 20 – June 20)
Messaging & connection → Strong for workshops & content-driven launches.

♋ Sun in Cancer (June 20 – July 22)
Emotional connection & trust-building → Nurturing-based launches.

♌ Sun in Leo (July 22 – August 22)
Visibility & confidence → Great for bold, high-energy launches.

♍ Sun in Virgo (August 22 – September 22)
Strategy & refinement → Best for structured offers & problem-solving services.

♎ Sun in Libra (September 22 – October 22)
Collaboration & aesthetics → Great for partnerships & visual rebrands.

♏ Sun in Scorpio (October 22 – November 21)
Depth & transformation → Best for masterminds or high-investment coaching.

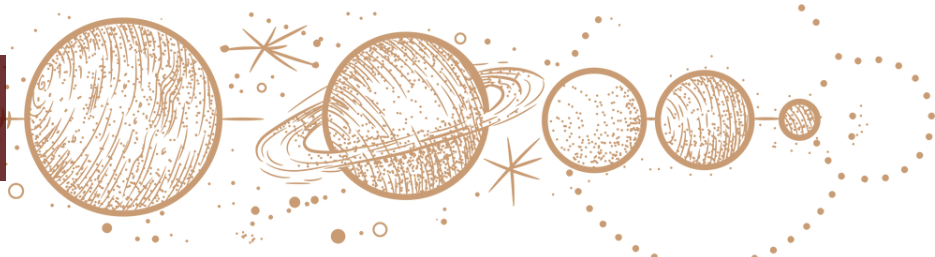

♐ Sun in Sagittarius (November 21 – December 21)
Expansion & risk-taking → Strong for visionary launches.

♑ Sun in Capricorn (December 21 – January 20)
Long-term planning & growth → Best for structured, strategic launches.

♒ Sun in Aquarius (January 20 – February 18)
Innovation, disruption, and attracting a like-minded audience → Best for new, unconventional offers or relaunching with a fresh perspective.

♓ Sun in Pisces (February 18 – March 20)
Intuition, reflection, and creative flow → Ideal for soulful offers, vision-based programs, or re-evaluating business direction before a big push.

CASE STUDY: THE POWER OF LAUNCHING WITH COSMIC TIMING

The Challenge: A Launch That Felt Out of Sync

A client came to me frustrated with low engagement leading up to her course launch.

She had strong content but felt like her audience wasn't fully receptive.

She originally planned to launch during Mercury retrograde in Aries, a time of impulsiveness and miscommunication.

The Shift: Adjusting for Sun Cycles & Audience Readiness

✔ We identified that her offer required trust & depth, making a Sun in Taurus or Scorpio window a better fit.

✔ She adjusted her timing and messaging to align with the Taurus season's stability & trust theme.

✔ We extended her pre-launch period, allowing her to warm up her audience before visibility peaks in Taurus.

The Result: A Stronger, More Aligned Launch

✅ More engaged & nurtured audience → Higher interaction before cart open.
✅ Higher conversions → Her sales surpassed her last launch by 40%.
✅ Less stress & more confidence → She felt in control of her launch process.
