RECLAIM YOUR DESIRES

Each cycle there is an invitation to pause, to take time to name and reclaim your deepest desires. This Pisces new moon is an opportunity to dream about new beginnings and fresh starts. Taking time to explore how you want to feel, be, and experience your business and life as you move through this and future cycles is a powerful place to begin.

HOW DO YOU WANT TO FEEL?

HOW DO YOU WANT TO BE SHOWING UP IN THE WORLD?

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO EXERIENCE?

PISCES NEW MOON OVERVIEW

The New Moon in Pisces late Sunday evening PST February 19th at 11:05PM.

As did our last new moon in Aquarius this Pisces new moon arrives at 1 degree. It supports us in exploring how we identify ourselves and giving grace and acceptance to being just who we are.

When we take these intentional pauses at the new and full moons we can ensure that we are aligning with our desires and choosing our actions according to our intentions. It creates clarity. Each new moon as a different opportunity for gaining that clarity.

What is the opportunity for clarity this new moon? Well the answer lies in who this new moon will be sharing the sky with the sun, Venus, and Neptune.

Layla Halabian shares about the is planetary line up:

This pile-up of planets creates the perfect atmosphere for manifesting, as well as heightening your intuition. Expect the bright light of clarity to hit not only during waking hours, but through dreams. With both Neptune and Venus — the latter in its exaltation, no less! — swimming through Pisces during the new moon, this lunation is going to filled with sweetness.

Part of the inquiry as we are at the completion of the astrological year is what are we letting go of and what are we leaning into?

Vanessa Corazon shares:

This moon is a chance for us to crystallize the long-term visions we have of our business by having a planning session with the divine. When we are willing to have an open conversation with our spiritual guides, we will receive important information from a higher perspective.

I invite you to take some time to have that planning session during this new moon. Whether it be with the divine or even with your business itself. Your business has an energy that chose you.

Leaning into the wisdom and guidance that it can share will help you to gain the clarity on what is wanting to move forward and what is ready to be let go.
